

BOOK STALL

A Funeral Service

By Paul Hickman

“ When grief hits, it’s personal. It can shred your emotions and turn your world upside down. ”

A Funeral Service is a practical guide, written by Paul Hickman, that eases the reader through the process of planning a funeral service for loved ones.

The book includes advice and guidance on the practicalities of what happens, and when in a funeral service, and includes a selection of suitable music, poems, readings and hymns to make things easier during a difficult time.

Author Paul Hickman trained as a lay minister in the Church of England for three years and now serves bereaved families, supporting them to feel comfortable with their choices when arranging the funeral of a loved one.

A Funeral Service is a book designed to support the work of funeral directors, celebrants and ministers as well as giving family members a clear and simple guide on the steps of planning a funeral service.

The book is a full of helpful information and gently guides the reader at a time when emotions are high, and decisions may be a struggle.

ISBN: 978-1-9162411-0-7

Publisher: La Palabra Publishing Company Limited

Available at Amazon

Price: £14.99 Paperback - £6.95 Kindle

Defibrillators

Funerals are emotional and stressful times for most people. This puts them at high risk of Cardiac Arrest.

Should you consider making Defibrillators available ?

DEFIBRILLATORS from £695.00 + VAT - or LESS for multiple orders.

Andrew Deptford

01529 421111 / andrew@aadefib.com / www.aadefib.com