Congratulations to those celebrating success today

As a pre-payment plan provider which offers its supporting firms access to online learning, we too understand the importance of developing expertise and we are delighted to see so many funeral directors, funeral arrangers and businesses taking the same approach. In addition to support for their continuing professional development, funeral directors using Ecclesiastical Planning Services can also benefit from:

- the freedom to set their own prices,
- a buy-online solution based on their set plans and local prices,
- high quality marketing literature and support,
- a range of customer payment options and;
- swift claims payments.

Ecclesiastical is also well placed for regulation by the Financial Conduct Authority from July 2022. Ask us about our redemption values too!
